“ I always enjoyed visiting with Arlen on the farm. We would lower the “Cone of Silence” -(A Get Smart sit-com reference), at the kitchen table when we needed to discuss something, but really did not want Melvin to hear what we were saying.

I am sorry I missed the church service- I was out of the area.

I will miss Arlen’s wit and humor.

“ I met Arlen 2 yrs ago when my mother moved to the Evergreen Cottage at the Pavilions. He lived down the hall from her and he always sat next to her at dinner. I remember how kind and reassuring he was to me especially on that first night, telling us he would look out for her and make sure she knew her way around. He was always a cheerful and kind person, and would joke around with mom and make her smile. We had many talks about seeing parents age, hoping we had done the best we could for them and he always was sensitive and comforting. I will miss seeing him enjoying the fresh air at the Commons.

Sending my condolences to your family. Marilyn Vlach
