“ Jan King lit a candle in memory of Cynthia Kay Augustson

“ I've struggled with what I might say to pay proper tribute to my friend. I love her and she'll remain in her own place in my heart and soul that she touched with her humor and her love for me, no matter what, and her constant exhortation to me to do what I dreamed.

These last couple of months when she knew it was going to be a helluva battle, we talked of dying and living and being mothers and wives and sisters and friends and she spoke to me of loving again. I was supposed to answer her challenge but I goofed around and stalled her. HA! And I never got to tell her my truth. I'm thinking she knew.

I know it's cliché' but it's true that few human beings pass through others' lives with such gentle force and leave anything lasting. Cindy did this for me.

Oh for one more phone chat on our "Thursdays with Cindy" times.....

I'll miss you, my dear and amazing friend. Shine on !

“ I have known Cindy since high school and the one memory i have was when we were in Mrs Colvin's class...we had to team up and do a news cast with weather sports and news..She did the news ...I did the sports and Shellon Fockler did the weather..we had to do it infront of a video camera.. we had a great time doing it..I will never forget that day. I will never forget you Cindy...and prayers to the rest of the family

“ You're my BESTEST Friend in the entire world. You lived out "our" saying till the end...
"ASPIRE TO INSPIRE BEFORE YOU EXPIRE". You have no idea how many people you have inspired. Even those you met recently on your last leg of the journey. I am amazed by the people you have touched, by just one encounter. The compassion YOU displayed even to your nurses, I may have tears now, but I will smile again some day, because of the memories we made. I love you!!!!

“ Cindy, Your light will shine on forever in the love you gave so freely and to so many. Your spunk, fast and quick wit and sence of humor put a smile on so many faces and in so many hearts. You touched more people in your lifetime with your love and joy, you are missed now and will be missed till the end of our time. You will be remembered with great warmth and respect. You fought the hard fight and never gave up until it was your time to let go and move away from the pain that God knew you did not deserve. You are loved by many and I am one. Rest in peace pretty one.
