“ I'll always remember Jack's touching words at my Mom's funeral many years ago.

“ Yvonne texted me at noon on Wednesday telling me of Jack's passing. When I got home about four o'clock, I let KC out for potty time. As I was watching KC, I noticed a bald eagle circling low in the sky over Jack's house. Round and round it soared rising higher and higher into the sky. There must have been an updraft because the eagle barely moved its wings. I watched it circle for about ten minutes. By then it was still over Jack's house, but so high that I could no longer distinguish the white head and tail. At that point it was joined by another eagle, and they flew off together toward the Northwest. I am guessing it was one of Jack's Army buddies who came to take him home.

“ The neighborhood won't be the same without seeing Jack cruise the sub on his scooter or driving by with a little honk and a wave. Love and prayers to Elma and family. I have no doubt Craig and Jack are catching up in Heaven. Rest in peace Jack. Yvonne Gay

“ I have always considered Jack and Elma my TC parents...they remind me so much of my own that reside in Kazoo. Jack especially, just as stubborn as my own Dad who passed away last year. Tough on the outside, but a big heart on the inside. Jack always expressed his concern for me and my family. We will miss seeing him make the rounds in the neighborhood and of course his smile and sense of humor.
