“ Momma I miss you oh so much, I'm still feel as if you're passing is some how not true. But yet each passing day " Nobody answers, when I call out out your beautiful name " I guess this is our Amazing Lords way of protecting me until he feels that I am ready to accept the truth. Until then mom I will just continue to tell the horses and the chickens as well as your little dog Avia who is still waiting for you on your bed , that not to worry everyone grandma will be home shortly don't worry. So until the time comes that I either except the realization that you have been blessed with the opportunity to finally be In the company of dad and Sue. Until then mommy I will just continue to remember how beautiful your smile looked as you would be in the sun and most of all you didn't have a care in the world because you finally felt safe and most of all you were comfortable and relaxed. I'll tell you the same thing i told you every day " You were the best mother you could be and you never did anything wrong. . Love you more than I can e say

“ Margot you were such a good friend. Evelyn and I miss you so much. We miss the talks we use to have in the summertime when you stood on your back deck and watched us as we worked so hard to finish our patio, and then you watched while we planted our flowers.

Then when they all came up in the spring you wanted me to come up and look at them from up there. Wow what a sight they were too see. And then when you would come down and sit out there and have iced tea or coffee with Evelyn. I will forever miss your smile and laugh, when I would tell one of my corny jokes. Then when you moved out to your son Mike's farm you were right in your glory. Whenever Me, Evelyn and Chloe would come out to see you at Mike's, you would always be setting on the deck that Mike built just so you could watch the Chickens, Ducks and Horses. I remember you and me talking about the Army and some of the places you and your husband Donald were stationed, and to my surprise you both were some of the places, years before I was, stationed in some of the same places. Margo, you were a great Wife, Mother, Grandmother, Great Grandmother and a Great Friend and Neighbor...

Rest in peace my good friend, I know you are with Our Lord, Donald and your daughter --Sue...We will forever miss you and love you...Lyle, Evelyn, Chloe and Chauncie, Sutton...
